The competition

Moyse International Flute Competition 2024 – SOFIA NBU

Président d'Honneur / Honorary president

SIR JAMES GALWAY

Flute Master and student of Marcel Moyse

Music is the most intense and interior art that man has produced, a universal expression that unites places and cultures. It doesn't need translations, it speaks through sensitivity and intellectual values. The musician becomes not only an interpreter, but also a mediator of culture.

The New Bulgarian University and the Italian Embassy in Sofia, intend to support this role and give young performers new possibilities for cultural mediation, organizing together, as proof of a cultural friendship with common aims, an international flute competition, in which new generation interpreters make themselves known and recognized in their values.

Luisa Sello, PhD professor at NBU and appointed by the music department for the artistic direction of the competition, created the Moyse International Flute Competition with the aim of expanding the already present friendship between Italian and Bulgarian institutions and internationally promoting the Doctoral Degree section for the PhD in Flute Performance at the NBU.

Marcel and Louis Moyse, internationally recognized flutists, have had a fundamental influence on the flute school of the last century, both in teaching, composing and publishing. The 'Moyse International competition' in Sofia, offers some of their works, composed or dedicated to them, together with the most important flute repertoire that privileges the Italian and Bulgarian music, with a view to a cultural friendship between the two countries, developed around interpreters and artists of both side.

The Rules and the Jury are focused on rewarding not only technical skill of the candidates, but also their charisma, intelligence and comprehension of the text as well as their communication skills, such as necessary in every art.

Winners will receive prizes, benefits and concerts.

All candidates will receive a diploma of participation at the announcement of the winners. Certificates for the teachers of categories A, A1 and B winners will be given on request.

Jury Moyses International Flute Competition 2024 SOFIA NBU

The on-line selection of category B will be made by Sir James Galway e Lady Jeanne Galway

Regulation

Moyse International Flute Competition 2024 SOFIA NBU

The competition is open to flautists of every nationality between the ages of 10 and 33, calculated on June 28th 2024, the day the competition starts. Each candidate can participate in only one category, even higher than his/her age.

Each competitor must present a valid identity document to the Secretariat, or they will be excluded from the Competition.

For the categories A, A1 and B the preliminary round will be on-line. The selected candidates will participate at the second and final round in person. Those not selected will have no right to refund of registration fee. The category C will participate in person for each round.

The order of execution of all categories will be established by draw, on the same day of the competition. Competitors who are absent at the convocation MEETING, for justified reasons, will be able to take the test at the end of that same day.

Decisions of the Jury are final and there is no right of appeal.

All rounds are open to the public. Study rooms will be available at the Music Department at NBU 5th floor, organized by the Secretariat according to requests.

Marcel and Louis Moyse, internationally recognized flutists, have had a fundamental influence on the flute school of the last century, both in teaching, composing and publishing.

Marcel Moyse (1889-1984) Legendary French flautist and teacher, had a profound influence on flute and woodwind playing in the 20th Century. He studied with Paul Taffanel and Philippe Gaubert at the Paris Conservatory and became one of the greatest flautists of his time. After immigrating to the U.S. in 1949, he became the founder of the Malboro Music Festival. Among his students we can find James Galway, Trevor Wye, William Bennet, Conrad Klemm, Paula Robinson, Carol Wincenc, Robert Aitken, Peter-Lukas Graf, Raymond Guiot and Aurèle Nicolet.

Louis Moyse (1912 – 2007) was a French flautist, pianist and composer, son of Marcel Moyse, who was his teacher together with Philippe Gaubert. He taught many world-class flutists all over the world, including Toronto and Boston University and Malboro College. He is considered one of the most prolific producers of flute music worldwide.

Among the works works dedicated to Marcel Moyse: Philippe Gaubert 'Sonata n. 2' / Albert Roussel 'Joueurs de Flûte' op. 27 / Jacques Ibert 'Concerto'.

Works composed and/or edited by Louis Moyse: Louis Moyse 'Trois pièces faciles' / Louis Moyse '7 Caprice-Etudes' / Franz Doppler 'Fantaisie Pastorale Hongroise'.

Both Marcel and Louis were friends with Bohuslav Martinu, who wrote his concerto for flute, violin and orchestra for Marcel Moyse and Blanche Honegger Moyse, violinist, conductor and wife of Louis Moyse'. The Concerto was first performed under the baton of Philippe Gaubert (1936).
